

In-company training

Language proficiency has become an essential element of company training programmes. Excellent language training is about equipping people to carry out their work tasks more effectively and thus achieve better results.

Lanto Education is a private language school was founded in February 2004. From the beginning we were totally committed to providing, the very best, professional and effective English language training, and this commitment to total quality is what has earned us the considerable success and reputation we have Today. Lanto Education is one of the most respected language schools in Almaty with a passion for professionalism and excellence at the core of our being.

Our Courses

All our “In-company” training courses are designed to deliver a bespoke solution to your specific training needs, schedules, and budget.

- General and business language training

Our “General and business language” training focuses on presentations, reports, meetings, negotiations and every day communication – business and social.

- Industry-specific language training

Oil & Gas, Banking & Finance, Hospitality, Law, Marketing & Advertising, Medicine, Aviation.

- IELTS preparation courses

If your company has any specific training requirements, please contact us to discuss the details of how we can design and deliver a bespoke programme tailored to your specific needs.

Methodology

At Lanto Education we teach through the communicative method with particular emphasis placed on enabling our students to communicate proficiently and effectively in English. All our courses are designed in such a way that every student uses English right from the very beginning, no matter what his or her present level of language competence is. And it is mostly through communication that the student's level of language competence grows. Our practical teaching approach ensures fast progress; Students quickly becoming confident in speaking, listening, reading and writing in English.

Our Teachers

All our teachers are fully and highly qualified teachers in English language and have many years of experience. They have the most highly regarded and widely recognized qualifications for English language teachers such as CELTA (Cambridge Certificate in English Language Teaching to Adults) and Cambridge DELTA (Diploma in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages). Some of them have MA in Linguistics from European Universities. Caliber of teacher is an essential component of our success.

Course formats

We understand how busy you are, which is why our courses are uniquely tailored to suit your needs. No need to spend hours travelling, as our tutor always comes to you.

Each level consists of 100 academic hours (45 minutes). Depending on the course, you will find that we have a variety of course formats, for example:

- 3 hours a week means that you can do one level in 8 months.
- 6 hours a week allows you to do one level in 4 months.
- 10 hours a week means that you can do a level in 2.5 months.

Assessments

At the end of each level students undertake “end-of-course testing” to check and validate their progress in areas such as grammar, vocabulary, reading, listening, speaking and writing. There are also “check your progress tests” which students undertake regularly during the course. The official Lanto Education Certificate is awarded to those students who successfully complete the course.

We also provide Student Attendance Record for your consideration and all financial documents for your accounting department.
